Got a Congressional Inquiry?

Department of the Army's policy is to make information promptly available to Members and Committees of Congress and their staffs.

This policy is limited only by pertinent regulations and directives relating to security and protection of individual privacy and to official information that requires protection in the public interest (AR 1-20).

We the People

Constitution of the United States
--The Congress shall have power to raise and support armies...to provide and maintain a navy...to make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces...to provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions...to provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia.

This handbook does not replace Army Regulation 1-20, "Legislative Liaison," or Department of the Army Standing Operating Procedures, "Congressional Actions Responsibilities." It is simply intended as a guide for Congressional Inquiries. The AR and SOP shall take precedence if information in this handbook conflicts with them.

Types of Congressional Inquiries and Investigations

Inquiries¹

- Written Letter from Member of Congress or Committee Chair.
Respond within 5 working days after receipt.
- Telephonic Phone call from OCLL or Member's office.
Respond within 2 working days.
- Verbal Information usually requested during a meeting or visit.
Respond according to agreement made during visit or as soon as possible.
- White Star Involves death, injury, sickness, or other grave circumstances relating to Service personnel or their family.
Respond to WHITE STAR cases using the most expeditious means available, working overtime and weekends when necessary.
- Stovepipe Usually received informally from an action officer in another agency who needs TRADOC's input to answer an inquiry.
Respond according to instructions received with request. Don't forget to coordinate your response with Congressional Activities Office.

Investigations²

- GAO The General Accounting Office (GAO) is the investigative arm of Congress.
All requests by GAO for visits, briefings, or interviews should be handled through and coordinated by TRADOC's Internal Review and Audit Compliance (IRAC) Office.
- HAC S&I House Appropriations Committee Survey and Investigations (HAC S&I) Teams work for the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.
These investigations are usually to determine how to spend or not to spend money. Congressional Activities Office, coordinates these investigations for HQ TRADOC.

² Investigations are not mentioned elsewhere in this SOP but are briefly explained so that you know they exist and who handles them.

¹ OCLL prepares acknowledgments when the inquiry is addressed to a Secretary or Department of the Army Official. Congressional Activities Office prepares acknowledgments when the inquiry is addressed to TRADOC CG, DCG, or Chief of Staff. Action offices prepare, when addressed to office leaders.

² OCLL asks that we use e-mail as much as possible, especially for proposed draft responses. A draft response, however, requires the same level of coordination, as does a final response.

³ Congressional Activities Office, HQ TRADOC, will forward your electronic responses to OCLL.

Why do we have Congressional Liaison Offices?

To help ensure that Members of Congress receive timely, factual, and consistent information on all matters from large, diverse organizations, like the Army.

Who is OCLL?

Office, Chief of Legislative Liaison (OCLL), sometimes referred to as the Secretary of the Army's Legislative Liaison (SALL).

The Chief of Legislative Liaison (CLL), a major general, is responsible for providing liaison between the Army and Congress. OCLL is located in the Pentagon (except as noted) and is organized as follows.

- Congressional Inquiries Division
- Investigations and Legislative Division
- Programs Division
- House Liaison Division (located on Capitol Hill, Rayburn Building)
- Senate Liaison Division (located on Capitol Hill, Russell Building)

Why Do We Get Inquiries from Congress?

Members of Congress hold their office by the vote of their citizen-constituents. Public Law entitles constituents to correspond with their elected officials, who, in turn, will seek answers, information, and resolutions from government agencies.

Army soldiers, members of their families, civilian employees, or anyone else may ask their elected officials to help them with a matter involving them and/or the Department of the Army.

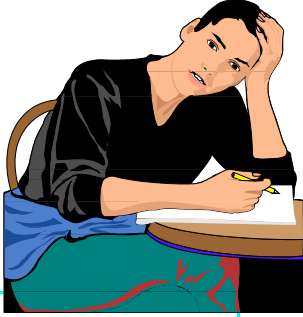

Members take very sincere and active interest in their constituents' problems and will insist each inquiry be given sympathetic consideration, equitable treatment, and timely response.

The Army serves and requires the continued support of the American people. The American public has a right to know how we spend its tax dollars, and how we treat its sons and daughters.

² Depending on complexity of answer. E-mail is preferred for most answers.

⁴ Office, Chief of Legislative Liaison, should be provided copies of any information furnished.

How did it get to me?

OCLL —

- Faxes written inquiries to TRADOC SGS.
- Telephones verbal inquiries directly to Congressional Activities Office, which then relays tasking information to SGS.

However, in some cases, you may receive a call directly from someone in Congressional Activities Office.

Secretary of the General (SGS) —

- Determines which office will lead the action on the inquiry.
- Enters into Command Actions Tracking System (CATS).
- Assigns suspense date, which is normally 5 working days after receipt by action agency, but 2 days or less for telephonic inquiries.
- Places in mail box located in the Command Group Administrative Center (CGAC).

Your office —

- Picks up inquiry from CGAC mail box.
- Assigns to action office (you).

What steps do I take?

- ① Read the inquiry twice, first quickly, then slowly, as you highlight or make note of each allegation or concern.
- ② Investigate each area of concern (phone calls, background files).
- ③ Gather information, know the policies (Army regulations, law).¹
- ④ Prepare your reply to the Member of Congress, responding to each concern. Speak as if you were talking to him or her.
- ⑤ Know who will be signing the response. Word the reply as if you were in that position of authority.
- ⑥ Coordinate your response with each office with any interest in the matter, including Congressional Activities Office. Don't forget specialty offices like SJA, PAO, EEO, CPO. Sometimes it's appropriate to coordinate with offices outside the headquarters.
- ⑦
 - ◆ For DRAFT replies to OCLL (e-mail preferred)—
 - E-mail your coordinated response to Congressional Activities Office(see back cover for e-mail addresses).
 - Indicate with whom you coordinated your response: office, individual's name, phone number.
 - If Chief of Staff approval was required, once the approval is forwarded to you from SGS, you must either—
 - Fax the approved response to OCLL (and provide copy to Congressional Activities Office), OR
 - Furnish approved e-mail version to someone in Congressional Activities Office, who will forward to OCLL.
 - ◆ For DIRECT replies to Members--
Mail letter to the Member and provide a copy to Congressional Activities Office and OCLL.
- ⑧ Clear suspense with SGS.

¹

The TRADOC Technical Library can usually get you a copy of any regulation.

How Do I Reply?

Written Inquiries

OCLL usually asks that we--

- 1. Provide a draft of an appropriate reply

draft

All responses (draft or direct) are addressed to the Member of Congress. The Member of Congress could either send the constituent a letter restating your response or forward a copy of your letter to the constituent.

OCLL encourages maximum use of electronic mail, especially for draft replies. The Congressional Activities Office will forward your coordinated responses to OCLL when using electronic mail.

or

- 2. Send letter direct to member

Do not mention that an inquiry has been referred for direct reply from another office, command or agency; merely state, “This letter responds to your letter to the Commander, TRADOC, on behalf of [name of constituent]..., regarding [subject of inquiry].” .

Keep in mind that OCLL may task several commands or agencies to provide a draft response. In that instance, your response would address the areas of the inquiry relating specifically to TRADOC. OCLL would consolidate the responses into a final reply, which they would release.

In either case, coordinate your response with Congressional Activities Office. Always provide OCLL a copy of replies sent directly to a Member of Congress.

Telephonic Inquiries

Normally we answer a telephonic inquiry with a telephonic response. While someone in Congressional Activities Office usually provides the information to OCLL or the Member's office, we might initiate a 3-way phone call so that you, the subject matter expert, can relay the information we've discussed.

Sometimes, detailed, written information is also needed and can usually be faxed or submitted by e-mail, once coordinated with appropriate staff offices and the Congressional Activities Office.

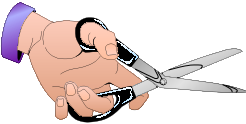

Stovepipe Inquiries

Usually received informally from an action officer in another agency who needs TRADOC's input to answer an inquiry.

You may respond informally (fax, e-mail, or telephonic). However, remember that your response could be used as the TRADOC and/or Army position for the Secretary of the Army's reply. Coordinate your response with Congressional Activities Office, and any other appropriate offices.

What are the Do's and Don'ts?

	✓ Respond completely to each allegation...if unanswerable, so state... Answer all the questions or give reason why you can't.
	✓ Be factual, forthright, and simple... As if you were talking to your neighbor with no military experience.
	✓ When it applies, indicate how the individual has been helped... Indicate any assistance given to an individual to remedy the problem.
	✓ Be helpful... State how and where the individual can seek further assistance, if appropriate (EEO channels, Inspector General [IG], Uniformed Code of Military Justice [UCMJ] Board).
	✓ Be brief, clear, and courteous... Short and friendly (1-2 pages max). Attach details as enclosures.
	✓ Admit mistakes and apologize, when appropriate. How will the matter be resolved?
	✓ State the policy... It's what we must abide by.
	Avoid <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✗ Acronyms and abbreviations ✗ Army jargon ✗ Opinions ✗ Assumptions Don't <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✗ Commit yourself or the command to future follow-ups or updates about the inquiry, unless the Member of Congress specifically asked for future, final decisions. ✗ Attribute information to leadership (such as SA, CSA, or CG) unless the statements have received their personal review and approval. ✗ Cover up errors. ✗ Cite names of other Members of Congress when responding to like inquiries. ✗ Be technical or argumentative. ✗ Cite a paragraph of an AR as the basis for an action. Rather, paraphrase, enclose an extract copy, or explain the policy prescribed by the regulation.

What is a good reply?

Answers Mail	✓	Responds to each question or concern mentioned in the Member's or constituent's letter.
Easily understood	✓	The Member of Congress and the constituent will be able to read the letter and easily understand it.
Army Policy	✓	Describes Army policy and why a request could or could not be granted according to Army regulations.
Rationale	✓	Explains why the Army established the policy.
Case Facts	✓	Tells who researched the case and what they found.
Results or Impact	✓	States what happened and what will happen next.
Alternatives	✓	States other courses of action or avenues of redress or appeal, if any.
Coordination	✓	All offices and agencies concerned have agreed to all information in the reply. ¹

¹ Coordinate all Congressional inquiries with Congressional Activities Office, even if you receive it for comment from DA staff or other agencies ("stovepipe" route).

How Much Information Can I Disclose?

Withholding
Information ¹

From a Member of Congress

Requires express approval of the Secretary of the Army.

From a Congressional Committee (usually requested by the Chairman)

Requires the President personally invoke an “Executive Privilege.”

Under Privacy Act

Exceptions to Privacy Act apply when requested by--

- Congress as a whole.
- Congressional Committee or Subcommittee with jurisdiction of the matter.

Otherwise, do not release information about an individual that may violate the Privacy Act.

Classified

Every Member of Congress ² by virtue of assuming office is automatically authorized access to Top Secret information when acting in official capacity.

Personnel Records

Individuals should be notified when their records are being furnished to Congress. ³

Contract Awards

No one, including Members of Congress, can be told of who is to receive award of a contract, prior to public announcement.

² Does not apply to personal or committee staff members. However, many staff members, especially committee staff, do possess security clearances, but you should verify.

³ Secretary of the Army’s Office provides personnel records to Senate for confirmation of Presidential nominees.

What's the suspense date? ¹

Written Inquiry

Telephonic Inquiry

Normally	5 working days ² after receipt --- OR ---	2 working days
However	4 working days, if it requires signature by the Secretary or Deputy Secretary of Defense.	Overseas agencies have 5 working days.

NOTE: Shorter suspense dates may be imposed on certain actions.

¹ Commanders of MACOMs are responsible for providing timely, consistent, factual, and fully-coordinated information in response to requests received from Chief of Legislative Liaison (AR 1-20).

² Excludes time for mailing and handling.

Can it be extended?

If meeting the suspense is clearly impossible,¹ you can gain more time by providing an interim reply that--

- States reason for delay.
- Provides all information currently available.
- States when you expect to have complete information.

In certain instances, OCLL will grant an extension without an interim reply. Congressional Activities Office will seek an extension if you're so close to having a complete answer that an interim reply may not be warranted.

Normally we should not provide information from incomplete investigations, boards, or studies.

How can I transfer the action--

To another office within the headquarters?

- ✓ Get someone within the other organization to accept the action.

- ✓ Inform SGS of the organization, name, and phone number of individual accepting action.

How can I transfer the action--

To another command or agency?

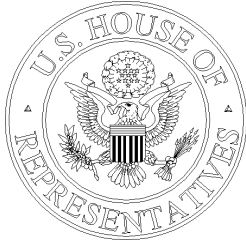

- ✓ Get someone within the other command or agency to accept the action.
- ✓ Inform Congressional Activities Office, of the agency, name, and phone number of individual accepting the action.
- ✓ Congressional Activities Office will get approval from OCLL. ¹
- ✓ Once OCLL approves transfer, further action depends on type of reply initially requested by OCLL:
 - ☛ DRAFT REPLY
No further action required, except to clear the suspense with SGS.
 - ☛ DIRECT REPLY TO MEMBER ²
 - Prepare a memo forwarding the action (with original correspondence) to gaining activity.
 - Furnish SGS a copy of memo to officially clear the suspense date.
 - Prepare a letter to the Member of Congress and furnish a copy to OCLL, so Member's office will know the action has been transferred and, therefore, they may anticipate a slight delay in receiving final reply. ³

² The proposed reply (together with the basic communication, enclosures, and all additional information) will be forwarded to the CLL or the appropriate Army agency for coordination and final reply to the Member concerned when the answer to a direct reply: (1) requires approval by DA (2) relates to proposed or pending legislation or congressional investigation (3) requires an explanation of the Army's policy beyond the capability of the addressee.

³ When OCLL initially receives inquiries, they immediately acknowledge receipt and state which agency is working the action.

What if we get several inquiries on the same subject?

Speak with one voice

When we receive similar or identical inquiries from several Members of Congress, the responses to each identical allegation will be the same. However-

- Each letter must be an original copy.
- Each inquiry must be answered fully and factually.
- Do not use form letters.
- Make sure you answer all concerns from all letters.

Do not fail to answer a concern or allegation that's mentioned in one letter and not another.

Honorable Ike Skelton
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Mr. Skelton:

This replies to your inquiry on behalf of Friends at Fort Leonard Wood concerning the establishment of a military style boot camp for juvenile offenders.

The Clinton Administration Plan offers a number of initiatives to prevent crime--one being boot camps. These boot camps provide an alternative for youth serving time in state facilities. Boot camps provide young people training, discipline, and a better chance to avoid a life of crime. Boot camps also provide criminal addicts with drug treatment.

On February 22, 1995, the Army approved establishing the first boot camp for juvenile delinquents on an Army installation. However, the Army will not operate the boot camp. The local Youth Services, a State entity, will operate the camp and will reimburse the Army 100 percent for all costs incurred to support their operations.

The Secretary of Defense has recommended closure of Fort McClellan, Alabama, to the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Commission, which means some missions may move to Fort Leonard Wood. Based on a pending Base Realignment and Closure decision to close Fort McClellan, Fort Leonard Wood must plan for additional missions to include use of existing facilities. We support making facilities available for youth services training when these facilities are not otherwise being utilized. The Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act empowers the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development to collect information about Federal facilities and determine which of these facilities are suitable for homeless assistance. Executive Order 12682, Commission on Alternative Utilization of Military Facilities, directs the Secretary of Defense to report to the transmission excess and underutilized facilities on military installations for potential renovation or utilization as minimum security facilities.

Fort Leonard Wood has been asked to review the feasibility of establishing a boot camp and will work with local authorities, as appropriate.

Thank you for your interest in this matter.

Sincerely,

- Sometimes OCLL asks for a draft response, rather than a direct response to Member of Congress.
- OCLL may task several commands or agencies to provide a draft response. Your response would address the areas of the inquiry relating specifically to TRADOC.
- OCLL would consolidate the responses into a final reply, which they would release.
